Bringing Italian Design Into American Homes

Founded in Majano, Italy, Snaidero is a leading Italian manufacturer of high-end kitchen cabinetry and bath vanities. Since 1946, Snaidero has owed its success to its deeply rooted craftsmanship heritage and its ability to fuse the art of the past with the best technologies of the present. The result is timeless kitchens created to improve the quality of life.

Today, the Snaidero brand is synonymous with creativity and outstanding design. The company has a long tradition of partnering with the world's finest contemporary designers and architects. Through its ongoing dedication to research, Snaidero has offered these designers the perfect environment to develop unique and innovative models, thus contributing to shaping the past, present and future of kitchen design. The company believes that kitchens must be practical, durable, multi-functional, and aesthetically beautiful: a reflection of the times, and of the homeowners who live in them.

The Snaidero global brand has established itself in the North American market, outfitting design-conscious clientele at some of the most premier addresses for over 45 years.
